To whom it may concern,

Bipu has been working with our team for close to a year now. He has been an invaluable asset, very smart, humble, and responsive. I could not have asked for anything more from a developer.

The project is currently paused for an undetermined amount of time, so right now we don't have work for him, but I hope he will be available if/when the project resumes! What I do know is that he always made himself available any time of the day or night to help us with any production problems and was able to calmly and quickly work through any issues. I cannot say enough good things about him, and I know that any team he joins will enjoy the same benefits that we did.

Sincerely,
